

Joel Antal

Design And Development

Hi Guys! I am 33 years old designer and developer from Serbia.
I am passionate about web design, graphic design, pixel perfection, and brand identities.

I have over 10 years of experience working as a designer, and during that time I also gained experience as a web designer, developer, and marketing funnel creator.

After many years of working as a freelancer, I have registered a design studio here in Serbia.

By the way, on weekends I used to teach kids how to use computers at an international private school. I introduced them to the basics of programming, design principles, and how to work with various software applications.
